Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 4, although applicant is claiming a first support member receivable in the second support or a first support inserted in the into the second support member, it is noted that the second support member is not being claimed having a channel or bore or aperture or opening or hollow. Therefore, applicant needs to clarify the language of the claim by adding a channel or bore or aperture or opening or hollow to the second support member.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Incavo et al. (5,827,286).

Incavo et al disclose a plate comprising first plate member having a first mount and a first support member extending from the first mount; a second plate member having a second mount and second support extending from the second mount; a plurality of apertures disposed in the first mount and the second mount, as stop (16,25) disposed on the first plate member, as best seen in FIGS.1-5, wherein the first support member and the second support member are adapted to engage each other in an axially adjustable manner , with the first support member being sized and shaped such that at least a portion thereof is receivable within the second support member, and the stop is adapted to limit such axial adjustment by being mounted to the first support member and extending outwardly therefrom such that, as the first support member is inserted into the second support member and axially adjusted to draw said first mount and said second mount toward each other, further axial adjustment of the first mount and the second mount toward each other is prevented upon the stop contacting an end of the second support member; wherein the stop permits axial adjustment of the first mount and the second mount away from each other; as set forth in column 3, lines 33-44, column 4, lines 64-67, column 5, lines 1-12.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 4,6,7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nakajima (6,355,036).

Nakajima discloses a plate comprising first plate member having a first mount (28) and a first support member (22,26) extending from the first mount; a second plate member having a second mount (42) and second support (24) extending from the second mount; a plurality of apertures (30,44) disposed in the first mount and the second mount, as stop (58) disposed on the first plate member, as best seen in FIG.4 wherein the first support member and the second support member are adapted to engage each other in an axially adjustable manner , with the first support member (26) being sized and shaped such that at least a portion thereof is receivable within the second support member (24), and the stop is adapted to limit such axial adjustment by being mounted to the first support member and extending outwardly therefrom such that, as the first support member is inserted into the second support member and axially adjusted to draw said first mount and said second mount toward each other, further axial adjustment of the first mount and the second mount toward each other is prevented upon the stop contacting an end of the second support member; wherein the stop permits axial adjustment of the first mount and the second mount away from each other; as set forth in column 4, lines 1-67, column 5, lines 64-67, column 5, lines 1-12, and as best seen in FIGS.1-9.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the aperture along a length of the first support member must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Response to Amendment

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 4 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 3733

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
